CIRCE.

You hold my heart in your slender hands, In your cold, your cruel, careless hands; In your beautiful hands, fanned by a breath Like the breath of the rose, it is a ying its death;

In your beautiful hands with their glitter of r.ngs. Each ring a tropt y that scornfully sings Of other hearts that has lain like mine On your cruelly beautiful, pibless shrine;

Of other hearts that have gone to their death, swooned to sleep by that sweet, sweet breath. That breath of the rose that comes and goes as the smiling, beautiful lips unclose, When night after night down dizzying dances. They follow and follow your dazzling grances, While round and round by the music whirled, as I'd follow and follow you ever the world?

Then hold me fast in your slender hands. In your cruelly beautiful, pittless hands. Let me forever be dying my death, swooned to sleep by that sweet, sweet breath;

Let me forever be whirling there,
Lost in a trance divincly fair;
Let me torever be stricken and slain,
And dying with this delicious pela!
Norsa Perry, in The Galaxy for March.
